A SPECIAL EVENING PRESENTATION

THE PRIVATE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE DINOSAUR OR THOROUGHbred?

Seismic shifts in the practice environment are occurring rapidly. On an almost daily basis, your medical society and its legal counsel are fielding important questions from physicians like: Should I remain in private practice? Should I consider selling my practice? If so, what issues should I be aware of and how do I proceed? If I sell my practice and become employed, what will be different? What, if anything, will remain the same?
